REGISTER TOMORROW.

The registration of the women of the county will take place next Wednesday, August 21 and each woman is expected to go to the nearest school house and register.

The government has called for this that the women of the county may indicate their ability in the various vocations outlined on the registration card.

No obligation is attached unless she freely offers her services. On the other hand it gives an opportunity to the girl who wishes training, which she could not otherwise have.

In the town a house to house canvass will be made.

JAPS TO TAKE OVER RICE

(By Associated Press.)

Tokio, Aug. 19.—An Imperial ordinance issued today authorizes the government requisition of all stocks of rice. The rice will be put on the market to relieve the food situation that is causing riots.

FOOD RIOTS IN JAPAN

(By Associated Press.)

Tokio, Tuesday, Aug. 13.—The food disturbances are increasing in violence. At Osaka during a demonstration, telephone wires were cut and several tramways were forced to suspend service after several passengers had been wounded. Troops including cavalry were called out to suppress the rioting and 25 policemen and many rioters were hurt. Five hundred persons were arrested. In outlying towns the people attacked the police with bamboo spears.

The disturbances at Kobe resulted in the burning of a great rice warehouse and several factories and houses and a large number of rice stores.

The seriousness of the situation led to a special meeting of the cabinet which decided to appropriate $5,000,000 for purchasing stores of rice for distribution among the people at a moderate price. The emperor, moved by the distress, has contributed 5,000,000 yen to the national rice fund. Street cars are being utilized in Tokyo by soldiers who distribute rice in districts where the suffering is reported.

The press joins in a tribute to the emperor for his generous contribution, indicating the spirit of the ruler and the wealthier classes but the newspapers generally blame the government for its tardy remedies. The conservative newspaper Jiji Shimpō especially criticizes the government, saying that as a result of its policy the nation finds itself in the throes of insurrection.

Several millionaires have contributed $100,000 each to purchase rice for the poor. The Mitsui and the Iwasaki families have each contributed $500,000 to this fund. There is an abundance of rice in the empire but it is held in storage by farmers and brokers. The government aim is to force the rice market but it has avoided up to this time regulating the price which, however has fallen.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG

James H. Cato, a brother of John Cato is expected to be called at any time to join his brother at Camp Taylor.

LICKED IN THREE PLACES

BRITISH CAPTURE STATION AT ROYE. FRENCH ADVANCE 9 MILES

(By Associated Press.)

London, Aug. 19.—British troops today captured the railway station at Roze, according to the latest news this evening from the battlefield.

Today's attack by the French tenth army, under General Mangin was fought to a satisfactory conclusion. The French entered the village of Le Hamel, north of Ribecourt which represents an advance of a mile and three-quarters.

WORKING ON OTHER SALIENTS.

London, Aug. 19.—The French Tenth army, which attacked the German between the Oise and the Aisne rivers last night, penetrated to an extreme depth of nearly two miles.

Launching an extensive local attack, the French broke through the German positions along the vital sector connecting the Marne and Picardy battlefields.

The attack was over a front of approximately nine miles from near Carepont, east of the Oise, to Fontenoy on the Aisne, about 6 miles west of Soissons.

The French penetrated to an average depth of one and three-tenths miles, with an extreme penetration of two miles.

They captured 1700 prisoners. The line is vital to the German positions on each side of it.

If broken, the whole German defense scheme will be thrown out of joint.

Along the Picardy battlefield, the French, in local actions, also captured 400 Germans.

St. Mar and Beauvraignes, near Roze were captured, thus increasing the peril to that bastion of the line west of the Somme.

Further north the British penetrated the German position near Arras.

In the Lys salient, the British made a new advance probably following the Germans, who have been retreating for a week.

LUKE FRANKLIN NOT KILLED

CORRECTED CASUALTY LIST SHOWS HE WAS SEVERELY WOUNDED.

The official casualty list of August 17 contained army casualties among overseas forces announced numbering 167. There was no Marine Corps list. Two lists issued by the War Department showed combined:

Franklin's death had been accepted as a fact by his family in Trigg county several weeks ago. No information is at hand concerning the result of his wounds.

MIRACLES OF SURGERY

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 18.—Bishop Joseph M. Francis, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Indiana, who has been a Red Cross worker at the American front, on his arrival here today on a French steamship, described "miracles of surgery," which he had seen at Red Cross hospital No. 2, in the Toul sector, where he was stationed.

"Men with great holes in their abdomens," Bishop Francis said, "are soon made well again, while bullets through the neck, which formerly would have been considered more than grave, are treated lightly by the

CZECHO-SLOVAKS ON DOCKS YELL GREETINGS TO U. S. FIGHTERS CROWDING RIGGING AND RAILS.

(By Associated Press.)

Vladivostok, Aug. 15.—The transport carrying the first contingent of American troops arrived here this afternoon after an uneventful voyage of seven and a half days from Manila. The men were in excellent spirits and crowded the rails and rigging, cheering and being cheered by the men of the allied warships in the harbor.

The crowds on the water front appeared amazed at the noisy entry of the Americans as contrasted with that of their less demonstrative allies. Groups of Czechs about the docks were vociferous in their welcome of the Americans who will be kept aboard ship until the arrival of other transports due tomorrow.

The transport bearing this first contingent of Americans lay fog-bound outside the harbor for five hours.

LOCAL BOY WOUNDED

ROBERT B. COFFMAN IN A HOSPITAL IN FRANCE WITH A GUNSHOT WOUND.

Mr. J. C. Coffman, who works in the saw mill of the Forbes Mfg. Co., has received a letter stating that his son, Robert Barron Coffman, is in a Paris hospital suffering from a serious machine gun bullet wound received in action. The bullet went through his abdomen and lodged in his back. Coffman is in the marine corps. The letter was written by a Red Cross nurse.

wonderful surgeons who are 'making over' the men mangled in the great war for democracy.

"The wounded men in the hospitals are the bravest of the brave. You never hear a whimper, and it makes an American proud to be of the same blood and faith as these heroes. When I saw what the marines did at Chateau Thierry it made me thrill with pride, and there have been many occasions since when an equal pride possessed me because of the wonderful work of the boys of the new army."

RAIN FALLS AT LAST

The grip of the dry weather which for the past few weeks has threatened to ruin the crops throughout the county has been broken.

Sunday afternoon a heavy rain fell near Crofton and from Lafayette around through Gracey and as far west as Cadiz the rain fell in a down-pour. From Pembroke to Bluff Springs, however, there was no rain.

The showers which fell in this city, while light, cooled the atmosphere and drove the mercury down to the point of endurance. It continued cloudy yesterday, and more rain fell throughout the county. The crops were in great need of rain and it came just in time. The corn crop is rather far gone to be helped much but the tobacco will be almost doubled in weight by the showers.

VACATION ENDS FOR CONGRESS

LAWMAKERS TO CONSIDER MANPOWER, REVENUE AND PROHIBITION MEASURES.

Washington, Aug. 19. (by A. P.)—Summer vacations ended, members of Congress returned to Washington today in preparation for important legislation, which is expected to keep Congress engrossed until the November elections or even later.

The three-day vacation recess agreement of the House expires today, and while the Senate's arrangement runs until August 26, leaders hope to get it aside and get down to work next Thursday on the Man-Power bill extending the draft age limits to 18 and 45 years.

Prohibition Ahead of Draft. With the national war prohibition measure having the right of way in the Senate at that time, under an agreement previously made, the manpower measure could be considered only during the early part of each day unless, as is not improbable, prohibition advocates should consent to temporarily sidetrack their measure until the Man-Power Bill is passed. Chairman Chamberlain is hopeful that, despite uncertainties of the situation, the bill may be passed late this week or early next week.

The man-power measure will be taken up first by the House Military Committee with Secretary Baker, Gen. March, Chief of Staff, and Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder scheduled for completion this week by the that the bill will be passed by the Senate before the House is called upon to act. Chairman Dent has announced that the hearings at which the War Department chiefs will give their views will be open to the public.

Revenue Bill Nearly Completed.

The War Revenue Bill, revised upward near the $8,000,000,000 goal of the Treasury Department, is scheduled for completion this week by the House Ways and Means Committee. Leaders hope to have the House begin work on the measure not later than Monday, August 26. In the meantime the Waterpower Development Bill has the right of way in the House, with its passage before being displaced by the Revenue Bill regarded as doubtful.

BELIEF THAT SUBS HAVE LANDED MEN

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Aug. 19.—Information furnished by officers of vessels attacked by submarines along the American coast has strengthened the belief held by several experienced officials here that the enemy raiders had communicated to persons ashore here and may even have landed members of their crews in an effort to secure reliable information. The Navy Department officially refused to endorse this belief, though admitting its possibility.

LONDON WITHOUT BUS OR TRAM SERVICE

(By Associated Press.)

London, Aug. 18.—Following the walkout of bus and tram drivers and conductors in the northeast district of London yesterday, a general strike was declared at 3 o'clock this morning. As a result London is virtually without bus or tram service today.

A few steam buses owned by one company are running, however, as well as the tube, so the city is not greatly inconvenienced, but if the strike continues to-morrow there will undoubtedly be much inconvenience.

Wallace Hancock says if the 3,000,000 "boys" now in France can't handle the situation several million men will soon be ready to go.

OFFICER BURKE TRAIN VICTIM

INSTANTLY KILLED WHILE HE WAS CROSSING TRACK IN PEMBROKE.

John Burke was run down and instantly killed late Saturday night by the north bound L. & N. fast train at Pembroke. Mr. Burke was assistant town marshal and was at the L. & N. depot just before the train came in. According to eye witnesses of the accident, some one near the bank building cried out several times and an officer called to Mr. Burke. He went running in that direction across the track and being somewhat deaf and having his mind on the call, did not hear the train until it was too late. When he saw the engine and realized his danger he apparently tried to leap on the cowcatcher. The train struck him fairly in mid air and broke nearly every bone in his body. His right arm was broken in three places. The pistol in his pocket was discharged by the force of the blow and the bullet ranged downward and lodged in his right leg. The body was hurled more than fifty feet by the impact.

Mr. Burke was 43 years of age and one of Pembroke's most highly esteemed citizens. He lived in the city, but owned and operated a large farm a few miles out from the town.

He was a devout member of the Salem Baptist Church. He is survived by his wife and three children. Funeral services were held at the grave in the Fields burying ground Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

AUGUST 24TH AUGUST 28TH

DATES FOR NEXT CALLS OF 60 COLORED AND 36 WHITE SELECTIVES.

All of the colored men now remaining in class one have been ordered to report here at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Out of the number reporting 60 are to be selected to go to Camp Taylor on the 6:45 train Thursday morning. This will almost exhaust the colored men left in class one.

Orders have also been received for 38 white men to go to Camp Taylor August 28. There are only 29 men left in class one of the first registration and the quota will have to be filled from those who registered on June 5th of this year. This will be the first of the new registrants to be sent from this county.

Young Lashbrooks was reported by Gen. Pershing as having been killed in action on July 19. No other official notice has been received by his parents that a mistake had been made in reporting him killed.—Owensboro Messenger.

COLLISION OF AUTOMOBILES

SUNDAY AFTERNOON RESULTED IN SERIOUS INJURIES TO LITTLE GIRL.

There was a serious automobile smash-up on Virginia St. near 10th St. Sunday afternoon, when a car driven by Poole Reese crashed into that driven by Richard Heister. Both cars were considerably torn up. Little Ruth Fox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Fox, who was riding in Mr. Heister's car, was painfully cut about the face and head. Her upper lip was so severely cut that it required five stitches to close the wound. Three stitches were also taken in the cut on the side of her head. The other occupants were severely shaken up but not severely hurt.

BOTH HOUSES GO TO WORK

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congress prepared today to enact quickly the man-power legislation extending the draft age limits for the American military program which Gen. March, chief-of-staff told the House Military Committee should win the war in 1919. While the House Committee began work on the bill by hearing Gen. March, Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder, in the Senate the summer recess was set aside by agreement, in order to take up the measure Thursday. It probably will be debated simultaneously in both Houses.

German on three sectors of the western battle front have been compelled to give up positions of great strategic value, under onslaught of British and French troops.

In the Lys sector, east of Amiens, the enemy has retreated over a front of nearly six miles, leaving the town of Merville in British hands. Between the Matz and Oise rivers, the French fought their way to the western outskirts of dominating position of Lassigny. Further south, in this hilly and wooded region, they have debouched from Thiescourt wood and also captured the town of Pimpre, situated in the Oise valley on the Noyon-Compiègne road.

Around a curve in the battle line northwest of Soissons, the French front from near Carle to Fontenoy on the Aisne for about nine miles. The French have moved forward to an average depth of more than a mile, taking 2200 prisoners. Unofficial reports record the capture by the British of a station on the western outskirts of the important town of Roze.

Latest German communication says French attacks between the Oise and Aisne failed, but the French account of gains is specific. London reports that German attacks about Chaulnes, which made gains but were all driven back by counter attacks later.

SUNDAY'S SUMMARY.

(By Associated Press.)

Continuing the famous Lys salient in the region west of Arrantiers is giving way under the pressure of the British. Again Field Marshal Haig's forces have compelled the enemy to seek ground to the eastward where he will be more secure from the shells of the big guns that for several weeks have been firing cross-over the entire salient, working havoc among the defenders of the insecure line.

Likewise the Germans are being given no rest by the Franco-British forces north and south of the Somme and the French and Americans in Lorraine are harassing them by artillery fire and local attacks. Nowhere has the enemy had the better of any encounter.

Over a front of four miles between Baillieu and Vieux Berquin on the Lys sector, the British have forced back the Germans to a depth ranging from 1000 to 2000 yards, taking in the maneuver the village of Outterte and 400 prisoners.

A little to the south, along the Lys river near Merville, the British also have advanced their line and still further south, between Arras and Albert, the Germans have been relieved under pressure of further terrain near Bucquoy.

While as a whole the Germans line between the Somme and the Oise river is still holding notwithstanding the pounding it is receiving from the allied guns, the British have drawn nearer the road leading from Chaulnes to Roze between Chilly and Frauxart, placing Roze in greater jeopardy by attack from the north. At the same time to the south of Roze over the four mile front between Beuvraignes and Canny-Sur-Matz, a violent artillery duel is raging between the French and Germans. It is in this region that the French are endeavoring—and in their initial efforts, they have met with considerable success—to carry forward their two-fold purpose of outflanking both Roze and Lassigny by a drive eastward in the direction of the road leading southeastward from Roze to Noyon.

Miss Mary Louise Tandy, of Fairview, is visiting Miss Sarah Belle Wharton.

Mrs. J. H. Brown has returned from Dawson.

So far as it is known, Lieut. Henry I. Eager is the first Hopkingsville man to arrive in France. Two others—Lieut. Herndon Waller and Lieut. Wesley Dalton—have been coming since reaching France. Clay Tichenor has just arrived.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture
Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while fitting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he lainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipe should be decreased one-fourth.
One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar.
One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.
Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

THREE MORE LOANS.

Three Liberty Loan campaigns,
each for $5,000,000,000 or more,
are planned by the Treasury Department within the next year, according to information from Washington. As has been officially announced, the first campaign will open September 28 and the other two will probably follow in February and June. This programme will be necessary, it is explained, to provide the $16,000-000,000 which officials estimate will be required in addition to the $8-000,000,000 provided by the new Revenue Bill now being drafted.

HURRY, CALLS CZECH

LEADER TO ALLIES.

(By Associated Press.)

Vladivostok, Aug. 14.—Gen. Diedrichs, commander of the Czecho-Slovak forces in Siberia, has presented a memorandum to the allied representatives here setting forth the urgent need of speedy assistance on a large scale and that an advance on Irkutsk should be ordered. He points out that if the allied forces do not reach Irkutsk within six weeks, the delay will be tantamount to the loss of all western Siberia by the Czecho-Slovaks. Gen. Diedrichs says that this would leave Russia entirely at the mercy of the Germans.

108,973 MACHINE GUNS

Washington, Aug. 18.—Since the United States entered the war and up to Aug. 10, the war department announced tonight that 108,973 machine guns of all types have been produced in this country and accepted for army use by the ordnance department. Of this total 30,226 have been of the Browning type. During the week ending Aug. 10, machine guns passed for use totalled 6,228.

Three Cows and a Lily Equal Five Cows and No Lily

WE are offering you the Lily cream separator because the Lily is the machine we believe in. Its records and tests have convinced us that you can make more money from three cows and a Lily than with five cows and no Lily. That ought to interest you.

We believe in the sturdy, simple, sanitary design; the working of the few closely-grouped gears; the splash oiling system that doesn't fail; the one-adjustment feature which we will explain later.

Most of all we believe in the Lily bowl, which gets all the cream out of the milk, down to about one drop in each gallon. That's what counts.

Come in and see this good cream separator.

TATTOOED MAN TO HAVE KAISER'S FACE REMOVED.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 18.—Because he had a picture of the kaiser tattooed on his breast, Arthur Randolph Martin of Paden City, W. Va., is going to undergo a serious and painful operation so that he will not be "joshed" nor his loyalty to the United States questioned, by his fellow marines after enlistment.

Martin was a tattooed man with a circus in civil life. He is a regular walking moving picture show. On his chest is done a large picture of the German war lord.

"I'm going to enlist in the marine corps in a few days," Martin told the recruiting sergeant, "but I'm going to the hospital first and have the piece of skin that contains this thing removed and new skin grafted on in its place. If the job is successful, I can then enlist and go to camp without being afraid to take my clothes off before my pals."

LOUISVILLE BOY DEAD.

Another Louisville boy gave his life for democracy when Edward P. Heinz, 21 years old, died of wounds received in France while fighting with the Marine Corps. Word of the death of young Heinz was received in a telegram to his father, Chris P. Heinz, a foreman for the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company, who resides at 673 South Thirty-ninth street.

PLAIN NATURAL IRON BEST TONIC

Costs but a Fraction What Weaker Preparations Sell for—A Spoonful in a Glass of Water a Day.

The absolute proof that medicinal iron would help blood and strengthen people wonderfully has caused many chemists to perfect more or less efficient iron tonics and more or less efficient tablets.

For most people, however, the writer would say that just plain highly concentrated Acid Iron Mineral is better, far cheaper and stronger and goes from two to six times as far.

A bottle of Acid Iron Mineral, kept handy and a teaspoonful poured in a glass of drinking water after meals, makes a delightful, very unusual and highly beneficial tonic and strengthener, and if the blood needs enriching and purifying it would be hard to find anything that does it better or rids the system of rheumatism and kindred ailments quicker than just plain concentrated Acid Iron Mineral, which is the name for non-alcoholic natural iron.

It also has a beneficial effect upon appetite and digestion, and the kidneys soon show its effects.

Piffles in Boots

By VINCENT G. PERRY

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Nina Helton looked at the check in her hand and groaned. Three hundred dollars—and she had expected at least three thousand. To think that her hopes had been dashed to the ground in such a way. It was unkind of her Aunt Matilda to leave her fortune to her husband's nephew and leave such a paltry sum to her, her own niece. When she had been notified that she was one of the beneficiaries of the will she had packed her things for a vacation. Her days of hard work were over for a time, she decided, but now she could see nothing before her but long tedious days in the office. Seven years was too long to be a stenographer and she was heartily sick of it. The very thought of a typewriter made her head ache. If the check had been for three thousand she would have been able to take a long vacation—a year at the very least. Her aunt could not have left her three thousand dollars well, hundred from her estate of over three hundred thousand dollars.

Nina had been so eager to see the check she hadn't read all the accompanying letter. When she started to read where she had left off, she cried out in dismay: "Your aunt has bequeathed her pet dog, Piffles, to you, and asks in her will that you be kind to him." Nina's voice pitched higher at each word.

"The very idea!" Nina exclaimed, aghast. "A dog? What shall I do with it?"

Before she could decide upon an answer to this question a loud rap sounded on her door, and she heard a bark from the outside. Piffles had arrived. Nina signed for the box before she knew what she was doing and the expressman left her alone with the crated dog. One look at the little fellow, biting eagerly at the straps on top, banished all Nina's fears.

"Piffles, you rogue!" she cried, as she hastened to get a hammer to set him free. He was the most delighted dog in the world when given his freedom. He danced around his new mistress in glee.

"You are the cutest dog I ever saw," she said, picking him up and hugging him. "I always did love Boston terriers."

Piffles was given his supper and Nina had her own. She sat him up in a chair to view his good points. "It's

He Danced in Glee.

Just like the fairy tale, 'Puss in Boots,' she told him, laughing. "I'm just like the miller's son, whose inheritance was nothing but a cat and a pair of boots, only I haven't got a pair of boots to spare. You'll just have to make a fortune for me, old Piffles in boots, to live up to the reputation of the original 'Puss.' The dog wagged his stub of a tail to show his willingness.

"You'll have to find a rich husband for me—that is my only hope for a fortune now."

No sooner said than the little dog ran to the door and whined to be let out.

Nina could scarcely believe her eyes. "He seems to be ready to start out on his mission right away." More in a spirit of fun than anything else, she opened the door and Piffles raced through the corridor, sniffed around the bottom of the stairs that led to the flat above and then bounded up. Nina whistled and whistled, but he did not come down. She was just about to start up after him, when she heard some one coming down. It was a man—the new tenant of one of the upper apartments, and he was carrying Piffles. The dog was attempting to lick his face and make himself generally agreeable.

"Is this your dog?" the man smiled, as he placed Piffles on the floor. "He seems to have taken a fancy to me."

"I just got him. Isn't he a dear?" Nina said, with enthusiasm.

"He is a valuable specimen, too. Do you take any interest in dogs?"

"This is the first one I ever owned. I don't know much about them."

"You must learn the proper method of feeding him. These little dogs require a special diet. I can give you some pointers," he offered.

"Won't you come in and do so?" Nina invited. "It is rather chilly in this corridor. He needed no second invitation, and even after the 'pointers' had been given he didn't hurry away until he had told her his name was Archie Kellend and had received an invitation to call again.

He called often—at first to see how Piffles was getting on, but after a few calls he didn't need any such excuse. On the first spring day that arrived he suggested a walk in the park to give the dog exercise. It was a beautiful day, so they sat down on a bench to talk over the weather and many other beautiful things. No intent were they upon one another, they did not notice that the dog had wandered away. When they did discover it, Nina was frantic. She knew that Piffles had been stolen or run over. Some big brute of a dog had killed him or he was being tortured somewhere by some unfeeling foreigner. There wasn't a dreadful thing that could have happened to that dog that she didn't think of. Archie finally got her to listen to reason and persuaded her that the dog had gone home, but when they arrived there he was not to be found. "I wonder if he went to Aunt Matilda's?" It took three miles out of town. Nina exclaimed, struck with the thought suddenly.

"That's just where he has gone," Archie assured her. "I'll get a car and we'll drive right out there."

Nina wasn't sure of the location, but after she gave Archie some idea of it he seemed to know where to go. "My aunt did not like my mother; that is why I never visited her," she explained.

When the car drove up to the country home that had belonged to Aunt Matilda they heard a familiar cry on the front veranda.

"It's Piffles!" Nina cried, joyfully, as she jumped from the car and bounded toward the house. "The sweet thing!"

Archie followed closely at her heels. They found the little dog huddled up to the door, crying pitifully.

"He's homesick," Nina said, with tears in her eyes. "Piffles, come here!" But Piffles didn't want to leave the door. He looked up into their faces and pleaded with them to let him in.

"Oh, if only I had the key to this house!" Nina said. "Poor little fellow doesn't know that it is deserted."

Archie took a ring of keys from his pocket and fitted one in the keyhole. The lock responded and he pushed the door open. Nina looked at him in wonder.

"We'll get into trouble," she said. "A hateful nephew of aunt's husband owns this house now!"

Archie could not keep back his smile. One look at his face told Nina the truth.

"You are the nephew," she gasped. "You are the master of this house."

"Yes, dear, and I want you to name the day that you will become mistress of it. It is your aunt's wish, Nina."

"That is why you are asking me. You do not love me."

"Don't it?" The way he brought out those words told her a lot. "I took the flat over yours to see if I could learn to love you, and I learned to quicker than anything in my life before."

"I hardly know what to say," she hesitated.

"Surely you will not deny Piffles the privilege of living here. He loves the old place. He is on his favorite chair now."

"That won't Nina. They were a happy three that motored back to the city, for Piffles had been persuaded to leave with them. He seemed to know that it was not for long."

"You did get me my fortune, after all, old Piffles in Boots, and happiness with it, too," Nina whispered in the little fellow's ear, as Archie and she hugged him between them.

Lizards That Fly.

At least one lizard enjoys, to a certain degree, the power of sailing through the air, as in the cases of flying squirrels, flying frogs of Europe, and some other animals. These lizards are called flying dragons and they are of small-sized forms found in the Indo-Malayan region. They possess elongated ribs in mid series, some five to seven pairs of them; these ribs support, on either side of the body, a semi-transparent membrane. It being stretched over them both dorsally and ventrally, united at the free margins, and continuous with the general integument of the body, it is, or rather, these "wings," close up like a fan when not in use, and fall to the sides of the animal, but when spread form a parachute of marked effectiveness, as by its use this lizard can leap from the limb of a tree and sail to another one at certain distances as well as a phalanger or a flying lemur. Sometimes these "wings" in certain species of the flying dragons are beautifully marked, resembling the wing markings of some butterflies.—R. W. Shufeldt, in Scientific American Supplement.

Words Have Histories.

Words are very much like people. They all have histories behind them. Many English words have foreign ancestors, some French, some Latin and some Greek grandfathers. For example:

Dynamite is the Greek for power. Good-bye is short for "God be with you."

Marmalade is the Portuguese word, meaning "made from quinces." The Portuguese word came from two Greek words, melli melon, which meant "honey apple."

School is the Greek word for "leisure." One does not think of school as leisure now, but in the olden times people worked to hard during the day in the fields they could only find time to read and learn lessons after work.

Have you ever had a "crick" in the back?

Does your back ache with a dull, heavy, draggy throb?

Hard to raise from a chair or turn in bed?

Is the urine dark colored? Passes irregularly?

When your kidneys need attention, use a tested kidney remedy.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the remedy that has proved its merit.

Convincing testimony in a Hopkinsville citizen's testimony.

G. H. Anderson, 828 Jessup Ave., Hopkinsville, says: "My back got so lame, I could hardly bend over to do any lifting work. The least move sent sharp pains all through my body and my back ached constantly. My kidneys were irregular in action, too. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and after using a supply which I procured at Higgins' Drug Store, my back was strengthened and my kidneys put in a healthy condition."

NEW GAME LAWS PROMULGATED

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES A PROCLAMATION CONCERNING MIGRATORY BIRD HUNTING, BASED ON AGREEMENTS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Regulations governing the taking of migratory birds, adopted as a result of international action binding on the United States and Canada, were promulgated by the President of the United States on July 31. The new law gives effect to the terms of the treaty which effects: "protects such birds in most of the North American continent, and in the main there are only slight changes in the law as it existed before the treaty."

Under its provisions there is no spring open season, and the fall open season is made more uniform throughout the country. Nevertheless the several States have the right under the terms of the act to make and enforce their own regulations when these are not inconsistent with the Federal rulings, but such State regulations may act only to afford additional protection to migratory birds, and not to extend the open seasons beyond those just promulgated, nor to authorize methods of taking birds not sanctioned in the Federal acts.

Main Features of New Law.
The uniform open season in general covers the period between September 1 and January 31, with a period not exceeding 30 months for individual species, though there are slight exceptions to those dates and periods, as the shorebirds season in certain New England and Middle Atlantic States, which opens August 16 and closes November 30. The sale of migratory birds is prohibited except of those propagated under permits issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, and uniform bag limits are set for the entire country. Sportsmen may not shoot more than 2 days' bag limit in any calendar week.

At the same time provision is made for the collection of birds for scientific purposes, and under extraordinary conditions Federal permits may be issued to kill migratory birds should they become injurious to agricultural interests.

Provisions for Game Farms.
Liberal provisions are included also for the propagation of migratory waterfowl on game farms and preserves, and the sale of birds so bred and reared is authorized as a part of the program for increasing the food supply. This paves the way for building up an industry which has already shown possibilities of marked success. Many species of waterfowl can be profitably raised in captivity, either on land unsuited to farming or in connection with other farm operations.

The Department says that many persons have been deterred from engaging in this business because there were no suitable laws governing or fostering the enterprise. It is hoped that this action by the Federal Government will lead to uniform and appropriate State legislation governing game farming. Such legislation is urged because no migratory birds, except those reared under permit, can now be sold anywhere in the United States.

Some Wholly Protected.
The new law gives continuous protection to all insectivorous birds, band-tailed pigeons, cranes, wood ducks, swans, curlew, upland plover, and all shore birds, except the black-bellied and golden plovers, Wilson snipe or Jack snipe, woodcock and the greater and lesser yellowlegs, as to certain non-game birds such as ducks, geese, gulls, grebes, gullinets, herons, loons, puffins, terns, and the like.

No night hunting is allowed, the killing or capturing of migratory birds between sunset and a half hour before sunrise is prohibited.

The Open Seasons.
The open seasons under the new regulations are as follows:

The open season for waterfowl (except wood duck, canvas-back, and swan) coot, gullinets, and Wilson snipe or Jack snipe are as follows: In Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York (except Long Island), Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, that portion of Oregon and Washington lying east of the summit of the Cascade mountains the open season is from September 16 to December 15.

In that portion of New York known as Long Island, and in New Jersey, Delaware, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California the season is from October 16 to January 31.

In Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana the open season is from November 1 to January 31. In Alaska the open season is from September 1 to Dec. 15.

The season open for sora and other rails (except coot and gullinets) is from September 1 to January 31.

Season For Plovers.

The open season for black-bellied and golden plovers and greater and lesser yellowlegs are as follows:

In Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia the open season is from August 16 to November 30.

In the District of Columbia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Alaska, the open season is from September 16 to December 15.

In Vermont, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho Nevada and that portion of Oregon and Washington lying east of the summit of the Cascade mountains the open season is from September 16 to December 31.

In Utah and in that portion of Oregon and Washington lying west of the summit of the Cascade mountains the season is from October 1 to January 15.

In Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas the open season is from November 1 to January 31.

Woodcock Open Season.

The open seasons for woodcock are as follows:

In Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas the open season is from October 1 to November 30.

In Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana Texas and Oklahoma the open season is from November 1 to December 31.

The open seasons for mourning and white-winged doves are as follows:

In Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico Colorado, Arizona, California, Nevada, Idaho and Oregon the open season is from September 1 to December 15.

In North Carolina, South Carolina Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana the open season is from September 16 to December 31.

Daily Bag Limits.

The daily bag limits for one person are as follows:

Ducks (except wood ducks and elder ducks) twenty-five in the aggregate of all kinds; geese, eight in the aggregate of all kinds; brant, eight; rails, coot and gullinets, twenty-five in the aggregate of all kinds; black-bellied and golden plovers and greater and lesser yellowlegs, fifteen in the aggregate of all kinds; Wilson snipe or Jacksnipe, twenty-five; woodcock six; doves (mourning and white-winged), twenty-five in the aggregate of both kinds.

Sale of Game.

Under section 2 of the Migratory Bird Treaty it is unlawful to hunt, take, capture, kill, possess, sell, purchase, ship or transport by any means whatever, or export at any time, any migratory bird included in the terms of the treaty, except as permitted by the regulation of the Secretary of Agriculture. In the regulation the Secretary has not given permission for the sale of any migratory game birds except propagated on farms and for scientific purposes. As a result, the sale of wild migratory game birds is forbidden throughout the United States. It will be especially worth noting in connection with the law and regulations that the regulations do not repeat the prohibitions contained in the law, but note the exceptions in the way of permissions authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture. Copies of the law and regulations may be obtained of the Secretary of Agriculture.

PATIENT IN THE HOSPITAL

ELUDES VIGILANCE OF ATTENDANT AND COMMITS SUICIDE WITH A SHEET.

John Hay, a patient at the Western State Hospital from Davies county, 55 years of age, hanged himself in his room Saturday night. He fastened the bedsheet to the ventilator and wrapped it around his neck in such a way that he was strangled to death. He was dead when the attendant discovered him and cut him down. Coroner Lavan held an inquest and the verdict of the jury exonerated the management from blame. The body was sent to Owensboro.

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS

VEXED PROBLEM OF THEIR PRESENCE AT ARMY CAMPMENTS IS NOW SOLVED.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—After struggling for a long time with the knotty problem of conscientious objectors in army campments, the War Department now announces that the difficulty has to a large degree been solved through the aid of the farm help specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. In the various States where there are farming communities which include sects opposed to war, such as the Dunkards and Mennonites, and where additional farm help is needed, these places are made known to the cantonment commanders, together with a record of their farm labor needs.

The plan has worked out so well that in the three camps where definite lists of objectors were compiled, practically all of these men have been placed. Camp Meade had 88, all of them now at labor on farms; 100 of the 102 men at Camp Lee have been placed, and the majority of these at Camp Taylor.

DEATH OF SENATOR JAMES IS ONLY A MATTER OF DAYS

PERSONS WHO HAVE SEEN HIM SAY KENTUCKY SOLON IS DYING.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 17.—The death of Senator Ollie James, who is a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital, is only a matter of days, according to some of those who have been in contact with him frequently at the hospital. Physicians at the hospital, who throughout his stay at the hospital have said he was not seriously ill and that he was merely undergoing a rest cure, said today that his condition had remained unchanged during the past few days. While this statement does not seem to indicate that the Senator is very ill, others who say that the Senator is very ill point to the blood transfusions which the Kentuckian has undergone and to the manner in which he stood the heat of the past few days to prove that he is seriously ill. Senator James has been at the hospital for more than two months, and although his condition during most of the time has been reported as "improving," he is still in bed and very weak.

LYMAN McCOMB PASSES AWAY

A LEADING CITIZEN OF PEMBROKE BROKE AND ONE OF THE COUNTY'S BEST MEN.

Mr. Lyman McComb, one of the leading citizens of Pembroke, died at his home at 1:45 o'clock yesterday morning, after a long illness, aged 78 years. Mr. McComb was born in this county Aug. 31 1840 and in early life engaged in farming. Later he moved into Pembroke and became a dealer in grain, operating a large warehouse. Several years ago he retired from active business and of late had been an invalid.

He was a life long member of the Baptist church and was a man of a high sense of honor and devotion to his church. He was also a member of the Masonic order and was prominent in affairs of his town and county. On January 12, 1864, he was married to Miss Linnie Holloway, of near Woodford county. He is survived by his widow and four children.

The funeral services will be held at the home this morning at 10 o'clock and the interment will be in Rosedale cemetery.

TWO NEGROES REPORTED KILLED IN RIOT AT CAMP

Eight Others are Said to Have Been Injured in Fight With Military Police.

Camp Merritt, N. J., Aug. 19.—Camp authorities were today investigating a riot here late last night in which it was reported two negro soldiers were killed and eight others injured in a fight with the military police. While admitting that a fight occurred, officers would supply no details, saying that a full statement will be issued later, probably tomorrow.

According to soldiers who say they witnessed the fight, the trouble started when a negro trooper and a white sergeant engaged in a fight. A company of infantry, detailed to military police duty, was summoned and arrested just as more negro soldiers entered the fray. Several more soldiers said to have been fired, and the disturbance was not put down until reinforcements had been rushed to the military police.

SUE WIDOW JOHN MOORE

FOR REDISTRIBUTION OF THE WEALTHY COLORED PREACHER'S ESTATE.

Rufus Moore, Lula Moore, Mattie Payne, Sarah Brohaugh, Ned Brohaugh, Will Merriwether, Mamie Ogburn, Robert Ogburn, Annie and Lawrence Smith are plaintiffs in a suit filed yesterday in Circuit Court against Mary Jane Moore, James Moore and wife, and Barbara Moore Love. The suit is for the division of the estate of the late Rev. Job Moore who died at 93. The petition alleges that Mary Jane Moore, the second wife and much younger than John Moore and that she unduly influenced to get deeds to of his property and when he no longer secure deeds by her and knowing his religious duties, of her dower rights, but it is alleged, she saw her attorney prepared a suit for divorce from him, charging him with adultery, knowing his religious convictions against law suits and divorce, by means obtaining other deeds. The last deed was to be in full settlement of his dower rights, but it is alleged that the clause concerning the dower was left out by fraud or means.
